PREFACE.

As promised in the last volume of the Marriage Registers of Derbyshire, the marriage records of St. Alkmund's form the first instalment of the Registers of the County Town.

The Editors do not doubt that these will prove especially interesting to Derbyshire people. In Volume V they hope to print further instalments of town registers in the shape of those of St. Michael's and also some village registers. It will be noticed that St. Alkmund's register begins at the earliest possible date, 1538, but of the remainder, two do not start till the seventeenth century and one, that of Quarndon, synchronizes with the passing of Lord Hardwicke's Marriage Act.

It will be convenient to give here a list of the Derbyshire parishes of which the Registers have been printed in this series:—

VOLUME I.

Dale Abbey	Boulton

It has not been thought needful to print the entries verbatim. They are reduced to a common form and the following contractions have been freely used :—

w.=widower or widow.

p.=of the parish of.

s.=spinster, single woman, or
son of.

co.=in the county of.

b.=bachelor or single man.

dioc.=in the diocese of.

lic.=marriage licence.

All these extracts have been made by Mr. Ll. Ll. Simpson. Thanks are due to the parish clergy for permission to print these extracts.

It may be well to remind the reader that these printed abstracts of the registers are not legal "evidence." For certificates application must be made to the local clergy.

The Editors will gladly welcome help in the work of transcribing the registers. It is only by volunteer assistance that it becomes feasible to issue this series of parish registers.

Marriages at St. Alkmund's, Derby,

1538 to 1812.

NOTE.—Vol. I. This is one of the most interesting of the Derby Registers; as well for the excellent condition in which it is found to be from end to end as for the beauty of the caligraphy and the orderly arrangement, of which the earliest part is especially notable. It has been rebound and recut at edges, consequently here and there some of the writing has been clipped. It contains 166 pages of vellum of varying quality. In size, it is  $6\frac{1}{2}$  by 17 inches. From the commencement until the 22 Sept. 1612, it is in Latin; after that in English. On the first page sundry parish clerks have written their names and dates of their going into office. There are also three inscriptions of some length; which have been so industriously scribbled over as to be indecipherable. One at the bottom of the page remains, and is interesting now. "In the year of our Lord, 1538, in the 30th year of the Reign of K. Henry 8th, in the month of September, Thomas Cromwell, Lord privy seal, Viceroy to the King's Highness, sent his Injunction to the Bishops and Curats through the Realme, charging them to see that in every Parish Church the Bible of the Largest volume printed in English should be placed for all men to read on. And that a book of Register should be also provided and kept in every Pish Church, wherein should be written every Wedding, Christening, and Burying within the same Pish: for ever, in obedience . . . [part of last line clipped away] . . . that book was provided 9 Nov. 15." On the second page a neatly written copy of the:—"Capitalum siue Constitutio Ecclesiastica, per Archiepiscopum Episcopos et reliquum clœri et de Registris in Ecclesijs saluæ custodiæ comittendis." This is followed by the document which ends thus:—"Descriptum erat hoc registerum, per Thomam Swetnamum ministrum hujus Ecclesiæ sancti Alkmundi, Derbia, iuxta vetus exemplar: Elia Bradshawe, et Roberto Sleigh, guardianis, Ano. Di., 1598. Sit Deo gloria, Laus, et honor, Amen." On the margin above this is written: "Ano. Di., 1597, Oct. 15, Ao. Regni Elizabeth, 39." At the head of the third page there is a well executed title in Church text ornamented by the usual elaborate network flourishes of the period and a large rose. It reads as follows:—"Liber memorialis siue registerium continens omnia nomina et cognomina conjugatorum baptizatorum et sepultorum in parochia Sancti Alkmundi, Derbia, a nono die Novemb., Anno Dni., millesimo quingentesimo tricessimo octavo ad finem huius libri et sequitur."

The Register begins with a marriage 3 Dec. 1538, which was the date of the old book from which the first part of the present book was copied in the 39th Elizabeth (1597), Births, Marriages, and Deaths being mixed.

There are a number of records of curious events interspersed through the book, very interesting, but too long to be quoted in these notes. The Triennial Visitations are regularly noted, the changes of the curates, remarks on the characters and ages of some of the departed, singular births, copies of dispensations for eating flesh-meats instead of fish, in 9th year of Charles I., of these there are three. Also the deaths of the reigning sovereigns are recorded, with the exception of the murder of King Charles I., and the pages put into mourning for them. The visitation of the Plague, "Hic incipit pestis pestifera." The names are written in red ink from its commencement on 2 Feb., 1592, until it ceased on the 4th Oct. of that year, 91 persons dying of it. The Plague returned in 1637, when nine persons died of it. Richard Boothouse records the following: Isaac Solden, clerke, came to Derby on Saturday, the 14th day of August, Ano. Dni., 1638, and by mutual consent was elected and chosen Minister of the Parish Churches of St. Alkmund's and St. Michael's in Derby. Then there are seven lines of cipher, and as there is no code, what it means remains a mystery. There are numerous other odd things, but they are scarcely suitable for this volume.

Vol. II. This volume is very similar to the last. It contains 212 pages of vellum, the last three pages being blank with the exception of two entries. The size is 17 ins. by 7½ ins., and the binding, full smooth dark brown calf, is rather dilapidated. The entries are mixed, and the register is well kept. The Marriages are entered to the end of the volume (Dec., 1797), although the usual Marriage Register was commenced in 1754, from which all extracts are made from that date.

Vol. III. This has evidently been two registers bound together, the cover is of thick boards backed with a piece of rough brown calf and the sides covered with marble paper. The first part of the register is the usual printed marriage form on parchment, size 15 ins. by 9½ ins., containing 48 pages, and 195 entries, three being on the end paper page. The second part is of plain parchment and the certificates are all in writing. The size of this is 13½ ins. by 9 ins., and contains 102 pages (the first two being blank) and 326 entries. The writing throughout is fairly good, but many of the pages are much stained.

Vols. IV., V., and VI. These registers are uniformly of the same size, 13 ins. by 9 ins., and binding full brown rough calf. The certificates are all written on vellum, and not on the usual printed form. The writing throughout is moderately good, though faint in places where the vellum is discoloured. Vol. IV. contains 120 pages with 362 certificates; V. 118 pages and 471 certificates, VI. 130 pages (only 49 used), with 164 certificates to end of 1812, and a further 22 for 1813.

These Marriages are extracted by Messrs. L. Lloyd Simpson and George Bailey, assisted by Mr. Ernest B. Smith, of Derby, and are printed by permission of the Rev. A. E. Hunt, M.A., vicar of St. Alkmund's, Derby.

Marriages at Quarndon,

1755 to 1812.

NOTE.—Quarndon, otherwise Quarne, now Quarn, was a Chapelry of All Saints, Derby. It appears not to have had any Register of its own till 1755. As will be seen by the St. Alkmund's Register, a good many Marriages are entered in that Register as having been performed at Quarne Chapel. This is accounted for by the fact that for ninety years (1712-1802) the Curacy was held by the Vicars of St. Alkmund's.

The Register is on the usual printed form, on paper, size 15 inches by 9½ inches, and is bound in stiff brown boards. There has been some sort of a cover pasted on this, but none now exists, the cover is fastened together by three pieces of thick parchment, which are interlaced into the sides of the cover; there is no back to it. The inside pages are much dilapidated, the edges being torn and some of the leaves loose, the writing is fairly good and legible; there are 92 pages in the book, but only 27 were used.

These extracts have been made by Mr. L. Lloyd Simpson, of Derby, and are printed by kind permission of the Rev. W. G. Nourse, Vicar of Quarn.

[When not otherwise stated the parties are of Quarn and are to be taken as bachelor and spinster respectively.]

Marriages at Tickenhall,

1626 to 1812.

NOTE.—Volume I. This is a very old, torn and dilapidated book without any covering. It measures 12 ins. by 6½ ins., and consists of 68 pages of vellum (some of which are very thin), the last page but one contains only two entries, and the last is blank. The first page is entirely illegible; the second leaf has been cut, but it does not appear that anything is missing. For the most part the writing is good, but in places very feint and cannot be read. The earlier part (to 1646) is in Latin, though not unfrequently the names are written in English. The entries are pretty regular to 1646, and then none are recorded until 1649, when three occur. Again a blank until 1657, except for one in 1651 and one in 1655. Baptisms, Marriages and Burials are mixed. It covers the period 1626-1693.

Volume II. This is a large book 20½ ins. by 7½ ins. and contains 94 pages of vellum, the last half page being blank. The cover is of parchment, and the back is torn, causing all the pages to be loose. On the inside of the cover is written:

“Tickenhall Register booke of Christenings, Marriages and Burials, bought August 15, 1695, price eight shillings.”

ROBERT NORMAN, Minister.

THOMAS HANSON, Churchwarden.

Also the following interesting memorandum: “Memorandum, that according to chronologers, registers were first used in England in the yeare of our Lord, one thousand and five hundred thirty and eight, and Ticknal old register booke began in the yeare one thousand five hundred eighty and nine. So according to the supputation, or computation of the Church of England, it was fifty and one years after the first beginning of registers, or ere Ticknall register began, which you may see and be satisfied in by inspecting ye old register booke, to which this register booke doth immediately appertain and which it doth immediately and necessarily follow.” The Baptisms, Marriages and Burials are mixed together, but arranged in months to 1700, when they are kept separately. The book is well kept and the writing on the whole good, but some of the pages are discoloured and the writing feint. It commences in English in 1693, but almost directly goes into Latin until 1700. It ends with Baptisms and Burials until 1787, but Marriages end in 1754.

Volume III. This is the usual printed Marriage Register on paper and bound in parchment. It contains 96 pages, but only 84 are used, and 335 entries.

These Marriages are extracted by the Rev. Thos. Jas. Jones, B.A., Vicar of Tickenhall and Foremark, and Mr. L. Lloyd Simpson, of Derby, assisted by Mr. E. B. Smith, and are now printed by the kind permission of the Rev. T. J. Jones, Vicar.

Marriages at Foremark,

1663 to 1837.

NOTE.—Volume I., 1663-1754. This is a small 4to volume, measuring 10½ ins. by 9 ins., and consists of 146 pages of vellum, bound in full rough calf, the front cover being broken off, otherwise it is in good condition. It commences with the year 1662, but was copied into this book in 1685, according to the inscription on the first page. On the inside of the cover is written: "The proportion each inhabitant of Ingleby is to pay towards the raising yearly twenty shillings for the Clark of the Chappell of Foremark's wages, according to an ancient agreement amongst them, and as was paid and agreed to be paid for the future in the year 1637." The first page has written upon it: "The Chappel of Foremark, consecrated Anno Dom. 1662, upon the 21 of September, by Bishop Hacker." It is followed by a list of "goods in ye Parish Chest belonging to the Chappell of Foremark and Ingleby this 29th of August, 1685." The second page contains list of "Customary Fees to the Minister and Clark of the parish of Foremark and Ingleby." Then follows Baptisms and Burials on alternate pages up to the year 1812, which occupy 84 pages; these are followed by 50 blank pages. The Marriages commence at the other end of the book, the first two pages being occupied by copies of various "briefs." The Marriages occupy only 8 pages, commencing with the year 1663 up to 1754, and are very sparse, and many years often elapsing without any Marriage.

Volume II., 1754 to 1812, is the usual printed Marriage Register on paper, bound in parchment, and consists of 96 pages, of which only 28 are used, the rest being blank. It contains 104 certificates.

Volume III., 1813 to 1837, is the same size and binding as the last, and consist of 100 pages, of which only 11 pages are used.

These Marriages are extracted by the Rev. Thos. Jas. Jones, B.A., Vicar of Tickenhall and Foremark, and Mr. L. Lloyd Simpson, of Derby, and are now printed by the kind permission of the Vicar, the Rev. T. J. Jones.
